

Line Spacing and Paragraph Formatting

Tight Line Spacing (12pt):

Line 1 - This is tightly spaced text
Line 2 - This is tightly spaced text
Line 3 - This is tightly spaced text
Line 4 - This is tightly spaced text
Line 5 - This is tightly spaced text

Normal Line Spacing (18pt):

Line 1 - This is normally spaced text
Line 2 - This is normally spaced text
Line 3 - This is normally spaced text
Line 4 - This is normally spaced text
Line 5 - This is normally spaced text

Wide Line Spacing (25pt):

Line 1 - This is widely spaced text

Line 2 - This is widely spaced text

Line 3 - This is widely spaced text

Line 4 - This is widely spaced text

Line 5 - This is widely spaced text

Paragraph Formatting Examples

Paragraph 1 (No Indentation):

This is the first paragraph with no indentation. It starts at the left margin and continues normally. This demonstrates basic paragraph formatting without any special indentation.

Paragraph 2 (First-line Indentation):

This paragraph has first-line indentation. Notice how the first line starts further to the right, creating a traditional paragraph style commonly seen in books and formal documents.

Paragraph 3 (Hanging Indentation):

1. This is hanging indentation where the first line starts at the margin but subsequent lines are indented. This is commonly used in bibliographies and numbered lists.

Paragraph 4 (Block Quote Style):

This entire paragraph is indented from both margins, creating a block quote effect. This style is often used for quotations, examples, or to highlight important text within a document.

Spacing Between Paragraphs

Paragraph 1: This paragraph demonstrates 10pt spacing after. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit.

Paragraph 2: This paragraph demonstrates 20pt spacing after. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit.

Paragraph 3: This paragraph demonstrates 30pt spacing after. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit.